VOL. LIV

OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 21, 1901

NO. 237

MACDONOUGH IS LEASED BY C. P. HALL.

POPULAR SAN JOSE MANAGER HAS SECURED THE OAKLAND
PLAYHOUSE FOR FIVE YEARS AND WILL BOOK
EASTERN ATTRACTIONS—ALL SYNDI-CATE SHOWS TO COME HERE.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN JOSE, Oct. 21.—Announcement is made today that C. P. Hall, the popular manager of the Victory Theater of this place, has secured a five-year lease of the Macdonough Theater, Oakland, and will immediately open the latter playhouse to first-class attractions.

Mr. Hall was seen by your correspondent and said:
"I am pleased to announce that I have secured a five-year lease of Oakland's handsome playhouse and I will open it just as soon as I can arrange the dates."

"I now have a State circuit, for I control the Victory at San Jose, the Marton at Fresno, the Yosemite at Stockton and the Clunie at Sacramento."

"We propose to give the Macdonough the best plays on the road and will keep it open as much as possible. We play all the theatrical trust plays at the Macdonough. We intend to give the people of Oakland the best that is on the road."

WHAT BALDWIN SAYS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 21.—Mr. Baldwin of the firm of Baldwin & Howell, agents for the Macdonough, today said:

"It is true that the Macdonough Theater has been leased but we will not be ready to give out the full details until tomorrow."

THE NEWS HERE.

The announcement that the Macdonough Theater had been leased for five years and would speedily re-open for regular business was received with great satisfaction in Oakland.

Much gratification was expressed that the theater had been taken by so capable and successful a manager as Mr. Hall, who has had twenty years' experience in the theatrical business in California. He has many friends in Oakland who will give him a hearty welcome in this field.

Years ago Manager Hall was connected with the old Bush Street Theater in San Francisco and proved himself to be a capable and popular man in his line. He made a pronounced success in Sacramento, which is conceded to be one of the hardest towns on the Coast for theatrical managers. San Jose was another hard town in which he made a conspicuous success. He made a regular hit at Fresno, and, in fact, all the theaters on his circuit are out for good shows, clean business and courteous treatment of the public. There is no doubt that Mr. Hall will repeat in Oakland the splendid successes he has scored elsewhere.

Manager Hall will book the trust's shows here, and will give Oakland the best that is going in every line. Being a live, energetic man, familiar with every branch of the business, the theater-goers of Oakland may rest assured that he will make all bookings at the Macdonough synonymous with the best that the stage affords in the way of histrionic amusement. Just when the theater will re-open has not been decided, but the date will be announced very shortly.

Joseph Barton of the Barton Opera House at Fresno, will be associated with Mr. Hall.

MRS. ROOSEVELT TELLS OF DRESS. COURT MODIFIES HIS INJUNCTION.

Says Her Gowns Cost Her Less Than Three Hundred Dollars a Year.

His Honor Did Not Intend to Prevent Any Moral Suasion.

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—A special to the World from Washington says:
Mrs. Roosevelt was discussing her winter toilet with a friend, and she remarked that any woman with common sense could be well dressed on $300 a year. The mistress of the White House further explained that hitherto she has never spent that much in a year, but she supposed a greater outlay would now be necessary.

Mrs. Roosevelt said her plan had been to buy three gowns a year and to get the best material and to employ the best artists. These gowns are a street dress of cloth, usually of tailored effect, an evening gown and a gown which can be used on all occasions in the house. Every season this thrifty housewife has her attire renewed and trimmed with the latest styles, and by this program she has always a complete wardrobe of up-to-date costumes.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—There has been no report at the State Department regarding Miss Stone.
The Turkish government has for its part responded in a satisfactory spirit to the appeal of the United States and together Turkey and Bulgaria have probably been put to an expense equal to the sum Miss Stone's captors demand.

FORTUNE IS STOLEN IN UNITED STATES STAMPS.

ROBBERS TUNNEL UNDER THE CHICAGO POSTOFFICE AND SECURE OVER SEVENTY-FOUR THOUSAND DOLLARS OF UNCLE SAM'S PAPER—LARGEST STAMP ROB-BERY IN THE HISTORY OF THE SERVICE.

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A sensational robbery which netted the perpetrators $74,610 in stamps was discovered here this morning when the wholesale stamp department of the postoffice was opened for business.

A rapid investigation developed the fact that the burglars had crawled under the flooring for about 200 feet, bored a hole in the bottom of the vault, secured the stamps and escaped, carrying their booty in a wagon.

The work of forcing an entrance to the vault had evidently been going forward with the greatest patience for many days. It is believed, however, that the intention of the thieves had been to enter the cashier's vault, in which there was $35,000 in money and stamps valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars. The bottom of the vault is of steel, half an inch thick. In this ninety-seven holes were bored, until a space eighteen inches square—just enough to allow the entrance of a man's body—had been so weakened that it was possible to take out the whole plate without difficulty. A dry goods box stood over the hole thus made and concealed the work of the robbers while it was in progress.

When discovered today the finger marks of one of the burglars were still discernable on the dust of the box, which he had pushed to one side.

So carefully had the job been planned that men working in other parts of the building had not the slightest inkling of the daring robbery being worked almost under their noses.

The robbers drove up to the southeast corner of the Postoffice in a wagon, the tracks of which could be plainly seen today. The building is a temporary affair and the men had only to open a little door to admit themselves under the flooring. To reach the vault it was necessary to crawl about 300 feet over odds and ends of boards which littered the way. The route evidently had been carefully studied, for a detective who went under today without knowledge of locations became lost and was nearly overcome by the foul odors before assistance reached him.

Having secured their plunder the robbers loaded it into the wagon, drove across a vacant lot and turned into Washburn avenue in front of the art building.

Of the $74,610 in stamps taken $1,712 was in "postage due" stamps and $2,230 in special delivery stamps. So the convertible stamps amounted to $55,658, but of these $1,838 were Pan-American stamps of 5 and 10 cent denominations.

C. F. Spaulding, chief clerk of the wholesale stamp department, discovered the robbery when he opened the vault at 7:50 o'clock. The safe had been locked with contents apparently secure, at 5 P. M. Saturday. Mr. Spaulding at once notified Postoffice Inspector Stuart, who hurried from his home and at once began an investigation, assisted by his deputies and a squad of detectives from the City Hall. After completing the search the inspector said:

"It was the largest stamp robbery ever done in the history of the postal service in this country. To get to the vault the men entered through a trap door. A few feet in they encountered a brick wall, which they dug through rather than crawl around looking for a clearer route. The wall, like others under the building, is of flimsy construction, and it could not have taken them long to pick their way through it. A hundred feet or so further on they ran against another wall, and this they also dug through. On the way they also encountered a number of pipes, and as the floors are but two feet and in some places three feet above the ground they tunneled under the pipes. Their whole course is plainly marked in this way. The wholesale stamp vault, like the cashier's vault and the money order vault, is supported by a brick wall. It forms a square and before the robbery was air tight. In this the robbers broke two holes, possibly to secure more air, for the place was undoubtedly foul, or to have an extra place of egress in case of discovery. For light they used dry batteries, one of which they left behind. This battery one of my men discovered. It and the wagon tracks are the only clues we have at present.

"The space under the vault is large enough to allow a man to stand upright, and their work must have been comparatively easy with the drills and steel saws which they used. The stamps were arranged in twenty-pound bundles and the weight of the load they carried off must have been 500 pounds. Evidently one man handed the packages down to others waiting below. As their progress must have been slow carrying even one bundle through all those tunnels, crawling on all fours, I judge they worked for hours getting their booty to the wagon.

"Evidently they felt perfectly secure, though somewhat disappointed at missing the cashier's vault, where there was $35,000 in cash and a great quantity of stamps. I cannot tell now how many men worked at the job. Every effort will, of course, be made to recover the property and capture the men who took it."

Postmaster Frederick E. Coine is in Washington. He is responsible for the loss until an act of Congress frees him from it. For amounts up to $2,000 the Postmaster General has authority to relieve Postmasters.

Of the stamps stolen 4,776,000 were 1-cent and 1,682,000 2-cent stamps. They got 150 2-cent and 105 5-cent stamps also, but Inspector Stuart said he thought they would have difficulty in disposing of the larger denominations.

A Santa Ana Man is Run Down on the Race Course.

SANTA ANA, Cal., Oct. 21.—While attempting to cross the race track at the finish line yesterday afternoon at Capistrano, Frank Forster was run over and probably fatally injured. He apparently believed the race over and had just got in the center of the track when a horse that had been distanced came dashing in, ran into Mr. Forster, throwing him down and rendering him unconscious. He also sustained dangerous internal injuries, and up to noon today he was still in a semi-unconscious condition and not expected to survive through the day.

AN ENGAGEMENT OF MUCH INTEREST.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—The announcement of the engagement of the Duke of Hamilton and Brandon to Nina Moore, one of England's beauties, has caused widespread interest. The Duke of Hamilton and Brandon is premier peer of Scotland and hereditary keeper of Holyrood Palace. A few years ago he was a poor lieutenant in the navy, but succeeded to the titles and estates in 1895.

STOLE OATS FROM HORSES.

Mean Work of Soldier's Results in the Arrest of the Men.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 21.—A dispatch to the Dispatch from Miles City, Mont., says:

What appears to be a systematic embezzlement of Government supplies, which has been going on for some time, has been detected by Captain Short and Lieutenant Foy at Post Keogh. The stuff appropriated was oats daily withheld from each horse. Captain Short found a soldier on Saturday driving to town with twenty-two sacks of oats. The soldier whipped up his horse, but was overtaken and said he was taking the oats to Astor's barn. He was sent to the post under guard while Short and Foy took the oats to the barn. At the barn they were too late to unload, and when they had done so they had the men arrested. Atchison, who lives opposite the barracks, was awakened, but professed entire ignorance of any deal and was greatly surprised that the barn men should have let the soldier unload without calling him.

Short says he is prepared to prove that this is but an incident in a series of such transactions with local parties.

WELCOMED OUT OF PRISON.

DUBLIN, Oct. 21.—Patrick A. McHugh, who was sentenced April 23 to six months' imprisonment as a first-class misdemeanant, was released from Kilmalmain Jail today. The Lord Mayor of Dublin and a numerous deputation from Sligo, and John O'Dowd, member for South Sligo, were among those who welcomed him to liberty. Mr. McHugh will sail for New York on the steamer Majestic, which leaves Queenstown Thursday.

SCHLEY WAS FEARLESS IN THE BATTLE.

HIS OFFICERS SAY THAT HE DID NOT FEAR THE FIRE OF THE ENEMY—WITNESSES ARE CALLED TO CORRECT
THEIR TESTIMONY CONCERNING BOIL-ERS OF THE OREGON.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—After a two days' rest the Schley Court resumed its sessions at 11 o'clock today. As usual it was prompt in beginning proceedings and everybody was in brighter mood than last week.

After witnesses had been called for the purpose of correcting their testimony.

Battle on July 3.

He began his narration of the battle of July 3rd and was questioned at some length by Mr. Rayner before he was turned over to Mr. Lemly for cross-examination. Other witnesses for the day were Captain Graham, Lieutenant Simpson, and Mr. Dennis J. Cronan.

Among the former witnesses recalled who was Captain Cook. He was recalled at his own request and made the following statement:

"In my testimony I stated that the Oregon on the morning of July 3rd was not under all boilers, having shifted her boilers from forward to aft. I find she had not shifted her boilers but had steam on all her boilers at all times during the blockade."

Corrected Testimony.

Lieutenant Thomas F. Carter, while correcting his previous testimony, stated that he desired to change that portion of his answer to a question, that the two after-boilers of the Brooklyn had no water in them when the battle began on the morning of July 3d. As corrected he desired the answer to read: "The two after-boilers had little or no water in them. Their fires were not laid until after the battle call was sounded."

Lieutenant Cronan stated he had measured the distance of the initial position of the Brooklyn on the morning of July 6th and found it to be 2,300 yards.

Lieutenant E. W. Wells, Jr., who was on the stand Friday was then recalled and testified regarding the battle of July 3d. He said he did not remember the ranges at which the Brooklyn fired, but thought 1,200 yards was the shortest. He described the turn of the Brooklyn and the chase after the Spanish ships. He said he had received orders to get a quantity of rapid fire ammunition. Owing to the character of the coast it was expected the Colon and the Brooklyn would come to close quarters. He was required to have this ammunition ready for such an emergency.

When Lieutenant Wells finished his description of the battle the question of dispatches was taken up, and he was asked as to their receipt by Commodore Schley.

Long's Message.

The cablegram from Secretary Long dated Washington, May 27, to the cable office at Mole, St. Nicholas directing that it be delivered to the next American war vessel to arrive, informing Commodore Schley that the most important thing to know was whether the Spanish fleet was in Santiago, was shown the witness. He stated it had been received by Commodore Schley on May 30. The Colon had been discovered in the harbor by Commodore Schley on the morning of May 22. Mr. Rayner at this point exhibited a chart upon which there were notations regarding the soundings taken in the vicinity of Santiago harbor and the strength of the batteries there, this information being given as of date April 1. Mr. Rayner asked the witness if he had any other information in reference to the batteries at Santiago except that given on the map referred to.

He stated the Commodore had received a memorandum of information from the Bureau of Naval Intelligence embodying about the same facts as contained in the chart.

Schley Was Fearless.

Mr. Rayner—Am I right in saying that you perhaps saw as much of Commodore Schley during the whole of the Spanish War as any one else and came in contact with him as much as anybody?

"I saw him daily and all through each day, generally speaking."

"Did you see him during the time of the reconnaissance on May 31?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did you see him frequently during the day of the battle of July 3?"

"No, sir. I saw him during the chase of the Colon."

"Did you see him during any of the bombardments?"

"I saw him during one of them, exactly which one I cannot distinctly recall."

"What was his general bearing, conduct and manner on any day in which there was a battle or any other time?"

"So far as my observation went he was thoroughly fearless and self-possessed on all occasions."

"Was he at any time within your knowledge laboring under any mental excitement?"

"No, sir."

Mr. Hanna cross-examined the witness.

He told of the meeting of the flying squadron and the Marlborough while the former was en route to Cienfuegos and the signals that had been exchanged.

Respecting the correspondence with the flying squadron was at Cienfuegos, the witness stated they kept no special letters received. He said the letters as received were briefed, stamped and filed. He never had any trouble under this system in finding any letter the Commodore wanted.

The witness also stated that never, to his knowledge, was a single paper lost.

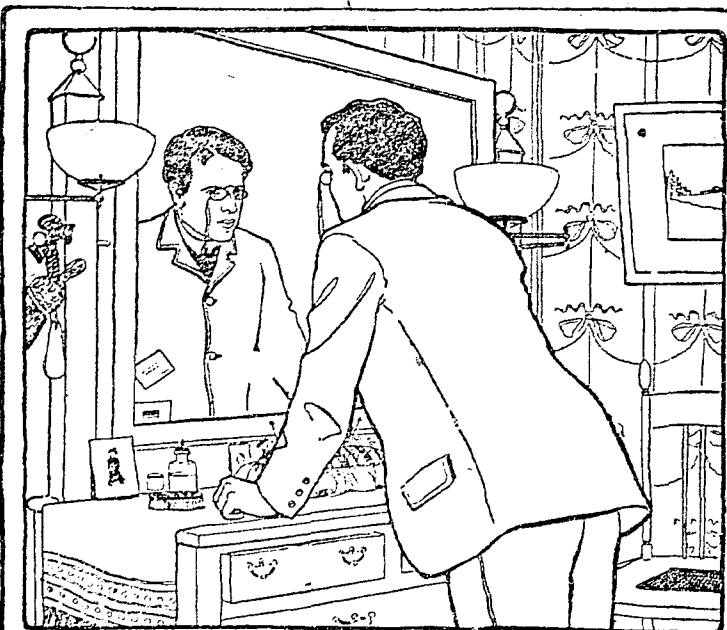

Mr. Hanna exhibited to the witness a letter dated May 30, 1898, and written by Commodore Schley, which contained a reference to the dispatches that had been brought by the Dupont and giving a general account of the operations of the flying squadron. He sought by this

TO THE MAN WHO THINKS.

LOOK yourself squarely in the face and see if you are not half ashamed to be without Ivory Soap in your house. Worse than this, your wife is without it. It is bad enough for a man, though a man often doesn't care how his comfort is mis-spelled. But a woman misses all these little helps to housekeeping. And Ivory Soap is one; its great potency makes it actually cheaper than yellow soap for general work. It floats.

TRYING FOR HONOR IN BOOK WORLD.

The literary season this fall promises to be an interesting one and will no doubt bring many new authors to the front. The year 1901-02 will undoubtedly break the record for new books, for hundreds of new authors have entered the field of fiction and are trying for honors in the literary world.

Some of the early publications are good, while others are very bad and pronounced failures from the start. In these days of "badging," no book can make its way to the front without merit.

AS A FALLING STAR. A crippled child is found on the steps of a hospital, abandoned by his parents. His life is the story of "As a Falling Star." His helpless condition and remarkable beauty appeal to a wealthy young woman who happens to see him, and she gives him a home.

The story is a delicate little study of two unusual temperaments, and the development of the woman's character through her care for the child. The account of a trip to Europe in the vain pursuit of health for little John brings in some clever descriptions of the cities and people of Italy.

There is a pathetic interest inspired by many of the scenes, which will appeal in a very strong manner to women. The young woman to whom the little founding comes has been the pet of her parents. Those parents have loved to make her happy. Now that they are dead the daughter feels a void in life which can never be filled.

Another, and to the young woman an irreparable loss is the death of Tom. Tom is the name of a young man who loved her, and whom she dearly loved in return. But he, too, had gone away, never to return, except in the spirit.

In the founding, therefore, the young woman considers that a blessing has been given her. A child has come into her life, and in a measure she feels that it has ceased to be a lonely, barren existence, for such she considered it had been, after father, mother and sweetheart had gone to the land from which she feels the little one has come. God, she realizes, knew that she was all alone, that her life had come to be a narrow one, that her sorrow was great, that she had fast becoming selfish, and then he sent her the little one whom she has called John.

John is full, perfect of feature, but with a withered limb which the doctors say will prevent him from walking without crutches. This affliction, so far from affecting the instinct of maternal love which has been aroused in the young woman, only intensifies it and impels it to do all the more to offset the affliction which has been visited upon the motherless one.

The book has been written by one who well understands the maternal instinct and who is able to appreciate the inexpressible pleasure of motherhood. Some of the lines are happily conceived, and especially in expressing the rapture of the self-sacrificing mother as she bends over the cradle of the little castaway, and cannot but cause tears to o'v down the cheeks of the sympathetic reader.

John lives for twelve years. These were years of joy ineffable to his foster mother.

"I think," he says one morning, "I hear the angels playing on many harps, and so many voices seeming to say, 'You will not need your crutches here, so they are yours. Good-bye!'"

Before the foster-mother can realize it, the boy has relaxed his hold about her neck and fallen back upon the pillow, and now only a fragile, wasted form lies before her to remind her, as she puts it, of the lively soul that had soared above her grasp.

The book is published by A. C. McClurg & Co. of Chicago and retails for $1.

LORD OF THE SEA.

"The Lord of the Sea" is a romance by M. P. Shiel, author of "Yellow Danger."

The book has been written for a purpose and, in some respects, is allegorical. It has all the weirdness of Verne's "Ten Thousand Leagues Under the Sea," and at the same time has a number of other features which will be most likely to receive considerable attention. The strongest point in the story is the culmination of the scheme of one of the characters, to become "Lord of the Sea," and in this he succeeds in a most remarkable manner. The theory that the sea belongs to all men having impressed him as being erroneous, he makes up his mind to demonstrate that fact. All the earth, he holds, does not belong to all the people, but simply to those who have the power to take it by force. If it were within the power of any one nation to dominate the world, that nation would soon take pains to exercise its dominion. The fact that no nation exercises that dominion is proof conclusive to Hogarth, the character in question, that

A PLEASANT LAXATIVE NOT INTOXICATING

THREE GREAT MUSICIANS COMING

Armando Seppilli, Walter Damrosch and Ph. Flon are the three great musicians who will lead the immense orchestra during the season of grand opera at the Grand Opera House. Seppilli is one of the most famous musicians in Europe and is associated with many of the most brilliant triumphs of Italian and French opera. Mr. Grau congratulates himself highly on his engagement, for he is aware that the presence of such an eminent artist in his company will contribute in a great degree to the perfection of the season, which he is satisfied will be the most splendid ever given in San Francisco. Ph. Flon will be remembered for the excellence of his work last season and will be cordially welcomed. Damrosch's name is a household word throughout this country. The Wagnerian opera he is without an equal and it is satisfactory to know that his great genius will be exercised in the production of "Tristan and Isolde" and "The Meistersinger."

AN INDUSTRIAL DANGER.

Now that the issue of Chinese exclusion is again under discussion, those who claim that the Japanese invasion is fast becoming so great an industrial danger as to need protective legislation are to the front with a new array of facts and figures. They show that despite the efforts of the Immigration Commissioners who, by means of the contract labor law, the pauper provisions and other such measures, keep the gates closed as much as possible, thousands of Japanese workmen are being imported annually into California to the detriment of our own wage-earning elements.

Singularly appropriate too at this time is a report just transmitted to Washington by our Consul-General at Yokohama for a review of the subject from a native standpoint and shows very clearly the way we are menaced by the little brown man of the Orient. As a proof that they are only too glad to exchange the industrial conditions of their own country for those of the United States he quotes as follows from a native writer. "Children under ten years, even of scarcely five or six years of age, are largely employed in factories, and men are generally made to work for injudiciously excessive long hours while women are employed for the same periods to which the men are subjected, and, like them, they have to work in the night-time, too. It is no exaggeration to say that fourteen, sixteen and even eighteen hours a day are often demanded from their employees by factories."

In a further statement it is shown that one rich Japanese corporation that declares annual dividends of from thirty to forty per cent, pays its laborers $5 to $6 a month, and works them from fourteen to seventeen hours a day. Furthermore, in many factories no provision is made for suitable ventilation and lung diseases are very common among the employees, while the arrangements are such that in the case of fire, escape would be almost impossible. No wonder, therefore, that the Japanese workman who can scrape enough money together to pay his passage turns his eyes longingly to this earthly paradise for the laborer and resorts to every known trick to secure a landing. Perjury amounts to naught as long as the applicant can succeed in passing himself off as a student, merchant, or traveler and as there are wealthy Japanese firms in this country that are anxious to import members of their own native working class, running the gauntlet of the American officials does not prove so hard a task after all. While Japanese exclusion on the same lines as prevail regarding the Chinese would be an impossibility there should be as restrictive a system as can be obtained, for every blow at the interests of the American workingman affects the organization of the entire republic.

RECIPROCITY AND HOME INTERESTS.

Reciprocity is a natural and essential complement of the protective system to which the Republican party is committed. Nevertheless, everything that is labeled reciprocity is not the genuine article, nor does it follow that reciprocal relations may not be established on a basis which gives one side all the advantage. This seems the case with the proposed reciprocal arrangement with Cuba. The admission of raw sugar from Cuba free of duty would inevitably ruin the best sugar industry of California, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska, as well as the cane sugar industry of Louisiana, Texas and Florida, and the chief beneficiary would be the sugar trust. There is a suspicious literary propaganda at work in advocacy of reciprocity just now, in which our duty to Cuba largely figures. There is much talk about the rehabilitation of the sugar plantations there and the expectation of the Cubans that we will admit their product free. It so happens that a majority of the big sugar estates have been bought up by American and English capitalists, and evidences multiply that the trust is behind the whole movement. Our home sugar industry, as well as the genuine principle of protection, must not be sacrificed on the altar of a bogus reciprocity reared to put more money in the coffers of the sugar trust. California, and Alameda county particularly, has a vital concern in this matter, and it is to be hoped that our Senators and Representatives will strongly oppose any proposed reciprocal measure that strikes at the industries of this State.

They have raised some stirring issues in the local election contest over in San Francisco. Asa R. Wells, the Republican candidate for Mayor, is charged with being an old man, Joseph S. Tohin, his Democratic opponent, is accused of wearing a red coat at fox hunts, while Eugene Schmitz, the labor nominee, must answer the charge of playing the fiddle. No wonder the situation is mixed. When the leading candidates rest under such grave imputations, the voters are naturally in a quandary as to how to vote.

Machinery is said to be badly needed in Alaska. Judging by the Nome scandal the political machine is in full working order, however.

The army canteen controversy is causing lots of trouble again. It might well have been expected that anything of that kind would have been spirited.

IMPROVE THE WHEAT CROP.

Thomas D. Carneal Makes an Excellent Showing on Livemore Ranch.

We are glad to note the fact that more interest is now taken in the possibility of increasing the wheat crop by the use of more prolific varieties than for many years past. Wheat has been so low in price that any unusual effort or expenditure seemed almost a waste of money. The wheat grower, better machinery, which lessened the cost of production, commanded attention, because the gain by its use was so obvious and capable of demonstration; but to secure more prolific seed, or to take measures for restoring the fertility of the soil, seemed to be a rather indefinite recourse, and each grower, though willing that his neighbor should make the trial, shrank from doing anything himself. There has, however, been something accomplished of late, and the results are such as to invite wider interest and effort on the part of growers. Last year we noted the importation of new seed from Australia, and now we have the experience of a Livemore grower, who has secured great improvement by the introduction of new seed from the State of Washington, and by combining his wheat growing with stock growing, so that he has his land on the up-grade in fertility instead of the down-grade, which is sure to result from continuous wheat growing.

Several years ago Thomas D. Carneal of Livemore, who is conducting the large J. West Alameda grain and stock ranch in that valley, began to practice a rational system of alternating grain cropping on a pasture on the heavy Adobe in strong soil. By the use of a suitable fan, all the small seed from the head-ends was blown out and only the largest, heaviest grains retained for seed purposes. This gave a very hard seed crop.

The crop from the seed has been treated in the same way, and he has now the third crop from the original seed, each year the process of wind separation and the use of the heaviest kernels being continued. We have a sample of this year's product and the superiority is obvious. The fact that Mr. Carneal was awarded the grand prize for his wheat at the Paris Exposition last year shows the standing of the grain before foreign expert judges. A series of milling tests it made by the Del Monte Milling Co. of this city shows that there has been a gain in milling qualities or in strength, as it is termed, as well as in general appearance. Mr. Carneal is convinced that there is a field in California for the production of fine wheat for seed purposes, and he proposes to proceed in this direction on the quantity of the success he has thus far attained.

Mr. Carneal believes that his rejection of the small seed from the upper end of the wheat head is as sound as the old practice of using the seed corn only the large central kernels of the ear and rejecting the tip seed. Not only is this true, but it has been demonstrated by the experiment stations that the largest seeds selected from the largest heads of wheat produced from 50 per cent to 100 per cent more than the crop from the small grains from the small heads. Mr. Carneal is demonstrating on a large scale the truth demonstrated by scientific experimentation, and his results should be largely suggestive to our wheat growers of what can be done by using the profit of his and strengthening their land by a wise system of rotation.—Pacific Rural Press.

TRANSIT COMPANY AFTER UNION.

Officers of the Organization Are Told Their Services Are Not Wanted.

The Oakland Transit Company is apparently making a determined effort to check the growth of a union recently organized by the local carmen. Within the last three months eight men have been summarily discharged on trivial charges, despite four or five years of faithful service. The only explanation the men get is the fact that they were prominently connected with the union.

The men discharged are: William Hall, nine years' service; E. Starn; W. Kruger, secretary of the union; B. West and John Forbes, the president of the union.

Concerning his discharge Forbes had the following to say last night: "Friday morning I was called into Mr. Potter's office and asked to tender my resignation. I was told that several infractions of the rules had been charged against me. They included a charge of leaving the end of the line a half minute late about a year ago and other trivial charges."

"I asked Potter if he considered the charges were sufficiently serious for dismissal, and he replied that he had orders to ask for my resignation. I then told him plainly that I was discharged on account of my belonging to a union."

"I have no grievance, as I said before, against Potter, but think that the attempt against the liberty of the men should be made public and defeated."

ROYAL ITALIAN BAND TO PLAY.

Famous Organization Will Be

Heard at the Unitarian Church Tonight.

Concerning the Royal Italian Band which will appear at the Unitarian Church tonight and tomorrow evening an exchange says:

Atlantic City.—Giuseppe Creatore, the young director of Mr. Channing Ellery's Royal Italian Band, which is playing at the Steel Pier, is one of the most talked about men in Atlantic City this season. What adds immensely to the interest he excites is the fact that he pursues his ties connected with band leadership. When he became a leader himself, and alternated in conducting and trombone playing until the spring of 1900, when the spirit moved him to come to America to seek his fortune. He landed here a year ago in May, with his trombone and just 40 cents in his pocket.

And now he is recognized as perhaps the greatest musical genius that has come to us in several years. His leading of a band is considered by many the most magnetic that has been known in America, and his capacity for interpreting all schools of music is simply boundless. His readings reveal all hidden depths of meaning, and his profound sincerity, even in small things, dignifies what in other hands would seem mere trifles.

Here in Atlantic City Creatore's genius is meeting universal recognition, and the men, by his extreme modesty and self-respect, has compelled the admiration and the warm personal regard of people whose friendship will stand him in good stead in his struggle for fame and fortune in America.—Philadelphia North American.

The band finished its season at the Alhambra Theater in San Francisco last night. The house was packed to doors and at least two hundred people were turned away. The advance sale in Oakland is very encouraging.

way entirely unspoiled by the lavish praises he receives, and seemingly unconscious of everything save his art and his few intimate friends. Creatore is only 20 years old, but he bears the expression of a man who has sounded nearly all the depths of human experience—which means human sorrow.

Cast out upon the world when a mere child by grave family misfortune, he began playing the trombone when not more than 10 or 11 years old, and at 12 was playing solo parts with the Municipal Band of Naples. Later on his genius being recognized, he was taken in hand by the leading professors of the Conservatory and educated thoroughly in harmony and counterpoint and the literature of music, entering finally into the band of Lucera, directed by the famous Silvio Mancini, where he acquired an exhaustive knowledge of all the technical-

REV. BROWN TELLS OF THE CONVENTION.

Rev. C. R. Brown, pastor of the First Congregational Church, preached last evening on the "Episcopal Convention." During his sermon he said in substance: "I went to the Episcopal Convention, which has just closed in San Francisco, that I might learn how other men conduct themselves in their religious duties. I went much as men would go to a foreign land to learn and broaden out. That which most impressed me about the convention and the men who made it up, was the attitude of reverent worship everywhere manifest. It is what so distinguishes the Episcopal Church from the other Protestant Churches and which adds to the power among a certain class of the Roman Catholic and Greek churches."

ALAMEDA

DEATH OF A RAILROAD MAN.

Frank H. McCormick Passes Away at His Home in the Encinal City.

WILL READ A PAPER AT THE MEETING.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 21.—Frank H. McCormick, general freight agent of the Central Pacific Railroad Company at San Francisco, died at his home in this city, 1801 Central avenue, Saturday night. Death was due to a complication of diseases which affected the heart. Deceased was a native of Ohio, aged 54 years. He came to California when but a boy of 18 and had been a resident of this city since 1883.

Few men were better known or liked in railroad business circles in San Francisco than Frank H. McCormick. He was a man of splendid physique, handsome features and habitually affable. In civic affairs he took a constant interest and was one of the members of the Board of Freeholders two years ago. It was about that time that Mr. McCormick's health began to fail, and, acting on the advice of his physician, he made a voyage to the Sandwich Islands. He returned somewhat improved, but his ailment soon reasserted itself and the sufferer failed rapidly.

Deceased is survived by a wife and two children, Ralph W. McCormick and Miss Grace McCormick. Funeral services will be held at the family residence on Tuesday at 10:30 A. M. The remains will be interred at Odd Fellows' Cemetery in San Francisco.

MAY RESULT IN CASE OF MURDER.

R. A. Little Stabbed While Visiting at the Home of Miss Daily.

R. A. Little of San Francisco was slashed across the throat last night with a knife at the residence of Mrs. Katie Daily by George Kelly, on account of alleged attentions to Miss Daily, a half sister of Kelly's.

The wound is a very severe one, and although the jugular was not severed, it was considered dangerous to move the injured man. He was treated at the Daily home by Drs. Kearns and Wilkes. The cut extends from the chin to the right ear.

The trouble arose out of a dispute between Kelly, Tim Traynor and Little over the accusation that Little, who is a married man, had been paying attention to Kelly's half-sister, Miss Daily.

Little and his wife had come over from San Francisco to pay Mrs. Daily a visit. A little later Kelly and Traynor dropped in and the trouble began. When the cutting took place, Mrs. Little ran screaming into the street and attracted the attention of the police. Kelly and Traynor made their escape but were captured an hour later and taken to the City Prison, where they will be held awaiting the outcome of their victim's injuries.

Little swore to two complaints today charging his assailants with assault to murder.

HOW CONSTABLE WON THE DAY.

Made Friends With the Dogs and Was Able to Serve the Warrant.

ALAMEDA, Oct. 21.—After attempting to arrest aged Dorothy Olsen for the past two weeks, Constable Clarke at last gained admittance to the old woman's premises on Saturday night and served the warrant which charges her with disturbing the peace of her neighbors. When Constable Clarke first made his appearance at the house he was met by two large hounds who successfully held the Constable at bay. Again he called only to meet with defeat.

Strategy was resorted to and Clarke brought choice morsels of meat to gain the good will of the canine guards but seemingly to no avail. He continued to wait, however, and present the dogs with meat until finally he gained the good will of the animals and upon entering the grounds Saturday evening the Constable was rewarded with great demonstrations of affection by the once fierce brutes. Mrs. Olsen was captured and her trial was set for Thursday at 10 a. m.

WILL APPEAL CASE TO SUPREME COURT.

Notice has been filed in behalf of Julia Nickals, an incompetent, that an appeal to the Supreme Court will be taken from the decision by the Superior Court in the suit of Julia Nickals against James Stanley as administrator of the estate of W. W. Nickals, deceased, which was decided in favor of the defendant.

In the complaint it is alleged that Stanley, who was at the time of Nickals' death Public Administrator, used a life insurance policy left by the deceased to his wife to pay the debts against the estate, instead of turning over the policy to the widow. Judgment is asked for $4,895 with interest at 7 per cent from January, 1893.

CRUELLY BEAT HIS GRANDMOTHER

William Cochran Will Have to Answer a Serious Charge.

William Cochran was convicted this morning in the Police Court of being drunk. After he serves his sentence of six days, he will have to face a much graver charge, that of beating his grandmother without provocation.

Mrs. Susan Polts, an aged widow, conducting a fruit store at 405 San Pablo avenue, called on Prosecuting Attorney Leach this morning and told him a story which is seldom exceeded in brutality. According to her story, her grandson called upon her yesterday and, after locking the door, with the remark that this was the chance he had been waiting for, proceeded to give her a beating. He knocked her down, stamped on her and finally choked her. After venting the full force of his rage on her, he left with the remark that he would get a pistol and kill her. The police state that they seldom have come across such a case of aggravated cruelty. Bail was fixed at $250.

CLARK WISE & CO.

519 TWELFTH ST., OAKLAND
41 Geary Street
Cor. Grant Avenue San Francisco

By J. W. LANGFORD.

Despite the fact that the finals for the John Grace cup were down for decision at Union Course Park yesterday, a large crowd of San Francisco lovers of the coursing game journeyed to this side of the bay and opened the local contest, which was held at Melrose course park, where an open stake with forty-eight entries was decided. There have been larger crowds at the pretty park on the Fruitvale highway where the hounds chase the hare, but never has there been more spirited betting than was seen there yesterday. Every person on the grounds seemed to be imbued with the spirit of the excitement and wanted to bet on something, and the clamor to get aboard the good things kept the pool sellers busy throughout the afternoon. There must have been some successful bettors, too, for Johnny Molt worked in a shirt waist, minus collar and necktie, cashing winning bets.

For one who wants a little excitement thrown in with an afternoon's outing there is no better place to spend the day than at Melrose park. A commodious stand, where luncheon can be enjoyed by the picnicers without question, commands a good view of the coursing park, and D. W. Barrett is near by to furnish refreshments of the liquid order at popular prices. Those who desire to bet on the hounds can indulge the passion to their heart's content in the betting ring, but nobody visiting the park is asked or required to patronize the pool boxes.

The San Francisco papers announced Saturday that owing to the John Grace cup being set for finals yesterday all outside coursing parks would be closed. This error probably kept a large number away from Melrose park yesterday, but for all that, a good crowd of local lovers of the game were on hand and they saw some of the best coursing of the season. Of the forty-eight dogs in the contest eleven were owned and bred in Alameda county. J. Matthews, J. E. Monahan and D. G. Frantz each had two and P. Steinhoff, W. W. Moore Jr., S. Hansen, J. Dean and J. Secada one each. When D. G. Frantz came on the course with Lassie Frantz to contest with St. Michael for the second tie he was seen to slip some gold to a friend with the request to bet it on his dog. St. Michael was a 1 to 2 favorite, but the money from Frantz soon shortened the odds. The talent would not listen to the Frantz tip and proclaimed everybody crazy who bet against St. Michael in the go. When the Frantz backers got tired St. Michael was made a one to two choice again, with the pool sellers calling for it.

To a pretty slip the two dogs went in chase and for about thirty yards ran like one dog, then Lassie Frantz took the lead, and from that moment there was nothing else to the course. She simply smothered St. Michael on every turn and count, and when it came to the kill the favorite was nowhere. One of the features of the afternoon's sport was the judging of Andrew Dean and the slipping of Harry Murray.

BASEBALL.

"Pooh!" said Charlie Heeseman at the Golden Gate ball grounds yesterday morning when the Oakland tail enders scampered off the grounds, leaving behind another defeat. "I believe the Elks can beat those fellows." Judge Quinn, Fred English, Jack Matthews and a bunch of Elks hanging on the fence Heeseman's few remarks and at once fell to discussing the likelihood of a match between the famous Elks baseball team and the tail enders. Down the line to the club house the matter was talked and by the time the team lined up for the Bohemians in the afternoon nearly every member of the local lodge of Elks was drawn in to the discussion. When the boys wearing the decorated tooth finished the Bohemians to the tune of 13 to 10 the news reached town from Frisco that the tail enders were again the victims there was a rush to get in line and explode opinions.

When Billy Matthews was asked if he would match his team against Ewing's pets his reply was characteristic. "I will go to them in a minute." "I will go to them in a minute," said he. Ted Hamilton was the only Elks at the ball park yesterday afternoon or the club house last evening who would not say the Elks had a good chance to defeat the Oakland league club in its present condition. Jed said his brothers were good ball players, but not in it with the professionals. He confessed, however, that he broke a pen every time baseball was mentioned in the Auditor's office. Tip O'Neill, when asked what he thought about bringing the two clubs together, said: "Well, Doc Moskman and Pete Lohman are both Elks now. If they could be induced to do the battery work it would make an interesting game."

Something may come of yesterday's talk, which began and ended in fun. Billy Dickinson had nothing to say and Cal Ewing, was not around, but it was the opinion of a good many local rooters that such a game would not be a bad drawing card when the league season closes.

NOTES OF THE GAME.
The game yesterday morning was full of hard hitting and many brilliant plays, but the score was a disappointment to the boys on the bleachers. Umpire Harph was greeted with jeers when he appeared on the diamond before the game, but when he fined Davis $5 for lying on his back because a strike was called on him the crowd shouted, "Good boy, Harph!" and cheering no longer threatened.

the country, but I never saw more loyal rooters than right here on these grounds," said J. W. Travers, the well-known racing official at the Golden Gate ball park yesterday morning. No matter how bad the locals may play, the rooters are with them with all the encouragement they can muster.

The scores yesterday were: Sacramento 10, Oakland 3; Sacramento 6, Oakland 3; Los Angeles 2, San Francisco 1.

THE TURF.

The horse owners who were compelled to move away from the Emeryville track to make room for good horses having stake engagements for the season of 1902 are saying all kinds of harsh things about Charlie Price, who, as general manager of the new California Jockey Club was compelled to ask them to find other stable room.

"It was the most painful duty I ever had to perform on the turf," said Mr. Price yesterday. "Whatever we may think of the class of horses forced out of the track, the fact remains that these poor owners have managed to eke out a living with their horses, and what they have done in the past they expect to do this winter. I went over the situation carefully before asking them to find other quarters, and I tell you there was nothing else left for me to do. Here are a lot of horses arriving daily whose owners have paid entrance fees for stake engagements to the Jockey Club, and they must have stable room inside the track."

Racing men who look upon racing matters in an impassioned way give out little sympathy for the poor horse owner with the bad horses. They are blunder enough to say the poor owner would not be so poor if he got rid of some of the skates that summer and winter eat their heads off without any return. Again they say the poor owners moved on the track during the summer months when there was nothing doing and squatted in stables that suited them, and that there was no chance for them to remain where they located under any circumstances.

The argument over the removal of the poor horsemen has brought out a suggestion that should profit somebody. In the vicinity of the race track there is much idle land. With stable accommodations at a premium, there is no reason why the enterprising fellow first in the field to rent ground and erect stables cannot make money easy by letting out his stalls. It is almost a certainty that the Jockey Club would patronize such a project. The large barn on the east side of Park avenue, owned by Mr. Emery, is rented by the Jockey Club six months in the year at a rental of sixty dollars per month, and every private stall outside the track is rented even in times when there is stall room inside the track.

Beside the stables removed from the track, many owners with long lists of horses of good class but not yet ready to race, were obliged to take less stalls than asked for. Chappelle, who is a resident and taxpayer of Emeryville, wanted twenty stalls, but twelve was all he got. W. B. Jennings, who trains the pick of Rancho del Paso, wrote for twenty stalls, but one side of a cottage stable is all that is left for him, and twelve stalls will have to answer. There are others who will have to give up feed and sleeping room and go to the hay loft. General Manager Price is determined to use every stall for the accommodation of a race horse, and none of the high-class horses now en route from the East will suffer for the want of stable room.

About the busiest man in Emeryville these days is Bill Fieldwick, the popular superintendent of the race course. Yesterday crowds visited the track morning and night, and Fieldwick met all their questions about the improvements going on with a full explanation. Beside the erection of a

ASSESSOR DALTON MUST FORK UP POLL TAX FEES.

Judge Ellsworth Decides that He is Withholding from the County about $5,500 a year to which He has No Right.

Unless the Supreme Court shall overrule Judge Ellsworth, County Assessor Henry P. Dalton will have to return to the County Treasury the sum of $10,800, commissions on poll tax collections, and also the amounts he has collected from the city of Oakland for furnishing the City Assessor with duplicate tax rolls. He will also be compelled to pay into the treasury a similar amount that he would have collected and retained during the unexpired remainder of his term. That is, the Assessor will be shorn of something like $1,000 of emoluments that he has laid claim to during his last four years' term of office.

Shortly after Dalton went into office the second time the Legislature amended the County Government Act, limiting the Assessor's compensation to $4,000 over and above the pay of deputies and other assistants in his office. Nevertheless, Dalton laid claim to the poll tax commissions and continued to collect and retain the same, amounting to upwards of $3,500 a year. He also continued to pocket the $1,000 a year paid by the city for duplicate assessment rolls. The Board of Supervisors demanded that he pay this money into the treasury, asserting that he had no lawful right to its retention. On his refusal, the Board instructed District Attorney Allen to bring suit for restitution. It is the demurrer to this complaint that Judge Ellsworth has just overruled. The essence of the ruling is that the county has a cause of action. This implies that it has an absolute right of recovery. If Dalton had a right to retain the money, the county would have no ground to sue on.

padlock stand, for the accommodation of persons whose pads being removed and re-planted, painting and carpentering work is going up and the track has to be harrowed and raked after, and the whole work is done at the expense of the city. Dalton, as his familiar love to call him, Bill, has been connected with the California Jockey Club ever since it was organized. He earned his sobriquet of "See Lion Bill" at the old Bay District track when the mud was so deep every experiment was resorted to that might improve the track. Dalton accompanied the course, but to no avail. Finally Bill was instructed to get a big roller and with a large fire burning inside and all the horses on the track to drive it around the course in an effort to dry the mud as asphaltum is dried, to the intense delight of the talent, who then gave him his sobriquet.

Dr. H. E. Rowell, the horseman, who is now a property owner in Emeryville, shows plainly the effects of his recent illness in Chicago. Rowell sold most of his horses while East. He returned with the famous Yellowtail and Formero, the property of Captain Ketchum. The once great Yellowtail, who himself after a breeze through the stretch yesterday morning he pulled up slightly lame and while he walked out of the lameness, it will be some time before he will be thoroughly fit to race.

BENCH SHOW.

All that is needed to make the bench show which will open in Oakland December 4th a success is a good list of entries. John Bradshaw, the secretary and superintendent, has completed all the details, and all that remains is the publication of the premium list, which will be ready early next week. Entries will close on November 23d. T. Gregory, C. G. Hester, W. E. Chute and B. Byron comprise the Bench Show Committee; Charles R. Haker of San Jose will be judge of mastiffs and St. Gregory, C. G. GOLF CONTESTS ON THE ADAMS LINKS.

Some excellent scores were made on the Oakland golf links Saturday, when the captain's cup tournament occupied the attention of the Adams' Point experts. Collector of the Port F. S. Stratton carried off the honors of the day and the cup with the clever score of 81 for the two rounds. W. P. Johnson was second with a score of 82, while the best that Champion Ernest Folger could do was to get third with a score of 92. Seven golfers entered for the cup, which is a perpetual challenge affair and represents the championship of the club. C. P. Hubbard, E. R. Folger and W. P. Johnson already have their names on the trophy, which will now include the name of the victor in yesterday's tourney. The contest was over eighteen holes, medal play, and results were as follows:

First	Second	Round	Total
F. S. Stratton	36	45	81
W. P. Johnson	39	43	82
E. R. Folger	44	48	92
C. R. Winslow	41	56	97
T. R. Hutchinson	49	50	99
C. Belden	47	54	101
A. H. Higgins	51	51	102

BUSINESS COLLEGE BOYS TO DANCE.

The students of the Polytechnic Business College have arranged a program and dance to be held at Chagrin Hall, Wednesday evening, October 23d.

"Yes, it virtually decides the case, so far as this court is concerned, I think," said R. M. Fitzgerald, Dalton's attorney. "It has been a long time since the demurrer was filed, but I don't think there is anything in it to amend. But the case will not be allowed to rest here."

"But Judge Ellsworth's ruling is practically an adjudication of the issue," was asked.

"That's about it, so far as the lower court is concerned, but I do not consider it conclusive." Assessor Dalton said his future course in the matter would depend upon the advice of his counsel. He also stated that the commissions already collected and retained amounted to somewhere between $10,500 and $10,800, and that the commissions for the remainder of his term would probably be $1,000 more. He declined to discuss Judge Ellsworth's decision or outline his next move, saying he was not yet thoroughly acquainted with the effect of the ruling and had not yet discussed the matter with his counsel.

Under the act of 1897 Dalton received a lump sum for conducting the Assessor's office, out of which he paid for whatever assessments were required. The act of 1897 changed the manner of compensation completely. It allows the Assessor $4,000 a year salary and provides for the payment of the office force out of the public funds. It also allows the Assessor $100 extra duties for the collection of poll taxes. In addition it requires him to pay the money collected from the city for duplicate tax collection and above the extra expense caused in making them into the City Treasury, and allows him no commissions or fees whatever. However Dalton claimed that Section 25 of the Political Code allowed him to retain the commissions as heretofore, and his attorney set up the contention that this took precedence of the County Government Act in particular because it was enacted subsequently. Judge Ellsworth decided that the County Government Act prevailed and that Section 25 was inapplicable to this case.

This is why Assessor Dalton stands to lose about $20,000. Dalton was given leave to amend, but the chances are that he will appeal from the court's ruling and not set up an answer.
